

One Lonely Room - by michael murphy / Jimmy Buffett

I pay the rent I came and went my life was spent In one lonely room restless and tired I used to lie be the fire I'd build my empire In one lonely room some say mansion's much too small When I tremble I can touch all the walls in One lonely room .. One lonely room

Well now ladies like space but they can't rustle lace there's no stair case when your in 1 lonely room well one girl came here but her love turned to fear thoughts get too clear when your in 1 lonely room loose and alive she touched my skin laugh when she found I did not extendbeyond

One lonely room One lonely room

So when you build your house you gotta build it yourself get yer heaven and hell but it's just one lonely room when you move in you gotta think of it then kitchen and carpet in 1 lonely room.

she can't survive if your minds too small take it from me Yes Cause I've done it all in one lonely room..... on lonely room (I did it all @3) one lonely room..... on lonely room

my life was spent In one lonely room x2
